SAN FRANCISCO SEEKS HOSPITAL PERMIT IN SAN MATEO COUNTY

Supervisors Decide to Secure Road Rights-of-Way. Plan to Compromise Hightower Reward

The question of obtaining rights of way for the fourth unit of the Skyline Boulevard was considered by the board of supervisors at their last meeting Monday, and it was decided to begin condemnation proceedings immediately for the acquisition of the necessary rights of way. Richard J. Welch, supervisor of San Francisco and chairman of the Joint Highway board, said that the matter of securing the new road was planned, was present and addressed the board upon the necessity of obtaining the right of way for continuing the work on the road. The new road is now open to the San Mateo-Halfmoon Bay road, and will be continued from that road to the Kings Mountain road, over practically the same ground as the present Redwood Park road. When Chairman Thompson asked for the opinion of members of the board, Supervisor MacBain said he thought that the matter should not be taken up at that time. Supervisor Hickey, however, took the lead and moved that proceedings be commenced. A vote on the question resulted in a majority in favor of the motion. Supervisors Hickey, Brown and Thompson favored the measure, and Supervisor Francis stood with MacBain as opposed to it.

A communication was received from Dr. William Hassler of San Francisco, asking for a permit from the board for the erection by the City of San Francisco of a tuberculosis preventorium in the hills back of Redwood City.

Dr. Hassler was present in person and told the board of the plans and objects for the institution. The hospital will be located in the hills above the city and will be a tuberculosis preventorium for the treatment of cases of tuberculosis, but for a convalescent ward and for a summer home for the children under

Find Two Dead In Car by Road

A romance that had been going on in San Francisco for some time came to a sad ending this week at San Carlos. Police Officer Stanley Wood was called to investigate a car which was standing for a long time near the highway at San Carlos at 5 o'clock Thursday morning. Wood found that the rear seat of the car was occupied by two persons, a young man and a girl, both shot through the head. The girl who was dead was brought at once to the coroner's undertaking company here, and the man, whose name was not known, was taken to the hospital. The man's name was later found to be Robert S. Walker of Pasadena. He was visiting his brother, Gordon, who is a member of the San Francisco Police Department. He died a few hours later.

Investigation by the sheriff's office disclosed that the man was Oia Radloff, 20 years old, a sheet metal worker living with his parents at 108 Clipper street in San Francisco. The girl was Miss Rose Della Nina, 16 years old of 4387 24th street, San Francisco, who is reported to have been engaged to Radloff. The officers found a revolver on the floor of the machine between the two young people, but neither the position of the gun nor the direction taken by the bullets gave any clue as to who did the shooting. The bodies were found upon the girl, however, supposed to have been written at the time. Part of this note is thought to have been in code as no one has yet been able to decipher it. The rest was written in Italian, and asked that her engagement be put on the same finger as the other rings, and that her people and word watch be buried with her. No word of the shooting or the reason for it has yet been found.

An inquest was held upon both of the bodies yesterday morning but no light was thrown upon the case. The young people had left a party in San Francisco together at 9:15 the night before, supposedly to go to the girl's home. Why they came as far as San Carlos could not be determined. The car which they were driving belonged to Radloff's father.

ADVICE ON SPRAYING FOR FUNGUS MILDREW

By A. W. Tate, Horticultural Commissioner of San Mateo County.

The season for winter spraying is now at hand, and the fruit growers should take advantage of every opportunity to do this spraying during this, and the fore part of next month. Should oil emulsions be used. They should be applied immediately, but lime sulphur gives the best results when applied the latter part of February and the first part of March.

We continue to recommend the use of lime-sulphur in preference to oil spray, which is more generally favored elsewhere, on account of the prevalence of certain fungus diseases, such as scab on apples and pears and mildew on bush berries in this locality, which are controlled by lime-sulphur but not by oil. When used on the above fruits for these diseases and the destruction of scale, use one gallon of liquid, or two pounds of powdered lime-sulphur to nine gallons of water, applying when the buds are swelling. For leaf curl on peach, use one gallon of lime-sulphur to eleven of water as the buds show a trace of pink.

The most serious disease of stone fruits is the brown rot. Spray with Bordeaux 8-8-50, (8 pounds lime, 8 pounds bluestone to 50 gallons of water), just before the white petals show and if weather conditions favor, or the development of the trouble is worse in moist weather, repeat the operation. When severe, it is necessary to spray after the petals fall with the 4-5-50 Bordeaux several times up to two months before ripening.

Despite the fact that his place is a pest house, the owner of the place has been ordered to remove and burn up all diseased fruit and to use sulphur as a carrier, it will aid in keeping down the rose mildew.

We have had occasion to return to nurseries 3500 grape vines during the past month because the packages were not properly sealed and certified as to treatment for phylloxera or where grown. All grape vines, rooted, which come into this county must be in packages which are wired and fastened with a lead seal of the horticultural commissioner of the county from which shipped, showing that they have been dipped or grown in a phylloxera free county.

Of a total of 453 shipments of 78,381 plants and packages inspected during January, 418 shipments were from California points and contained 74,656 plants and packages of seed. The shipments consisted of 20,577 ornamental plants, 23,415 bush berries, 12,100 strawberries and 8,977 fruit trees, balance miscellaneous. Of the fruit trees, the principle varieties were: peaches 2537, apples 1137, apricots 1135, plums 892, apples 475, and cherries 593. Prunes are not being planted very extensively, only 125 trees arriving, while old varieties are being set out more freely than might be expected, there being 91 peaches, 60 pomegranates, 300 olives, 66 nectarines, 61 quinces, and 234 figs among the shipments.

To Vote On Ball Park Buy

At the regular meeting of the trustees of Redwood City, it was decided to place before the voters of the city the proposal of purchasing the ball park at the corner of Broadway and the highway. The ball park is the property of the Sequoia Union High School district, and must be sold to pay for finishing the new building.

The trustees of the high school at a meeting last week decided to give the people of Redwood City the first chance for the purchase of the tract of land, which would form a valuable addition to the town property. The tract embraces 5 1/2 acres and is one of the best sites in the town.

The proposition of purchasing the land and spending considerable money on it to fit it up for an elaborate playground was presented to the people two years ago. The measure at that time failed to carry, not because of the expenditure necessary for the purchase of the land, but because of the added expense tied to it in the elaborate plans proposed.

The matter will probably be put before the people for a vote early in March.

PROGRAM FORMULATED FOR ELIMINATING TRAFFIC HAZARD ON PENINSULA HIGHWAY

A definite program for improving traffic conditions on the Peninsula Highway south of San Francisco has resulted from a conference of interested organizations called last week by the California State Automobile Association. Elimination of improper driving methods and violations of the motor vehicles laws on the Peninsula was pledged by the bus companies.

As a result of the meeting a public safety committee of two hundred more Peninsula residents, and including drivers of auto buses, will be organized to function as a similar committee which has been operating in San Francisco during the past year under the auspices of the Automobile Association.

Although the widening of the Peninsula highway to 40 feet has speeded up traffic and greatly increased its capacity, the Peninsula road is still one of the most dangerous highways in the state. Careful supervision of traffic and the elimination of reckless driving is necessary if the accident hazard is to be reduced on this heavily traveled road, according to the Automobile Club.

In order to formulate a sound basis for improving traffic conditions on the Peninsula, the Automobile Club last week called a conference of all interested organizations, including the bus companies. Bus companies were asked to co-operate in the program by arranging alternating schedules which would permit buses to leave terminals at intervals, to lengthen running time if this was necessary to make for safety and strict order. Drivers were to be disciplined by law, by a fine, lay-off or discharge.

Co-operation in all these points was promised by representatives of the bus lines who said that schedules were now in process of revision and that drivers were being disciplined for violations. They stated that drivers would also be given instructions not to attempt to make schedule if this necessitated a violation of the law in any respect, and that the companies would be glad to co-operate in a plan for checking and reporting violations on the Peninsula road.

Besides the organization of a public safety committee to function on the Peninsula highway the Automobile Club plans to sign the road with its entire length, asking for reports of traffic violations to be submitted by the public at large.

PROGRESS CLUB WANTS TO KNOW

The Redwood City Progress Club has sent a questionnaire to the voters of Redwood City asking them to express their opinion upon the following propositions:

Are you satisfied with the present water?

Are you in favor of experimenting with a water softener?

Do you want Spring Valley Water?

The preferential vote should be of interest, but we doubt if it will tell very much. There can be no question of the outcome if people think about the matter. We would all like to have Spring Valley Water. The thing to be taken into consideration, however, is "What will Spring Valley water cost?" We lately acquired the Redwood City Water Company's property. We supposed that we were to have a water softener.

We were told that Spring Valley would add to its product to the city for 25 1/2 cents per thousand cubic feet. The town would then be required to take care of all expenses of distribution, collection, wastage, etc., which would bring the cost to the consumer of 41c as against 30c per thousand as at present.

If we could get Spring Valley at the same price that we now pay we would want Spring Valley. Otherwise, perhaps, we would vote for a water softener.

BAD CONDITIONS IN GERMANY TOLD BY RETURNED PROFESSOR

Instructor in Sequoia Union Hi School Saw Great Change in Munich Since Pre-War Days

Each traveler returning from Germany has a different story to tell, but the reports of most of them agree as to a pretty sad condition that exists in that country, trying hard to get gradually back to normal working conditions, leave alone to any comfort that was enjoyed before the year of 1914 throughout the empire.

Mr. Schraidt, a member of the faculty of the Sequoia Union High School, has just returned from Munich, Bavaria, where he has spent most of his leave of absence since last July, studying at the University of that city, and he verifies the reports of the majority of the traveling observers, in fact, he thinks that the hardships and sufferings of a great number of people belonging to the so-called middle-class had just about reached a possible climax.

Of course, the main reason for the deplorable condition was the incredibly fast depreciation of paper money, which within a few hours, sometimes would fall to one-half or less of the previous value, with the consequence, that a monthly or semi-monthly salary had a purchasing power only on the first day or two, on which it was received. Physicians, who were paid, when the patient found it possible, had soon to go out of business; merchants who could not replenish their stocks, closed their stores, sometimes entirely or at least part of the time, to keep some goods on hand; and the farmer, who was not always promptly posted on the events at the money exchange, was reluctant to sell his products and a shortage of food and necessities was the result. His policy not to sell unless he was forced to do so.

A rather inefficient, partly unpopular, government was not able to cope with the situation, and so it happened, that occasional riots and disturbances were started by the enraged public, which stormed stores and grew lawless, because law and order did not protect them.

LOCAL MASONS PLAN OLD CLOTHES DANCE

Preparations now under way for the old clothes dance to be given by the local lodge of Masons on Saturday, February 16 in the Masonic Hall, and from all indications the affair will be one long to be remembered.

Attics are being ransacked for clothing appropriate to the occasion and the mothballs shaken from wearing apparel long packed away. Rumor has it that one couple will attend in the clothes they wore at their wedding forty years ago. The Welfare Shop has become a popular haberdashery among the local Masons, and some have raided the salvage department of the Salvation Army with good effect.

Dance Fashion predicts for this event at any rate, a reappearance of such wearables of long ago as hoop skirts, balloon sleeves, picture hats, Prince Albert coats and hats of long forgotten vintages.

All Masons in the vicinity have been asked to attend with their families. The members of the Eastern Star and the De Molay boys will be the guests of the evening.

He used to take you out to the suburbs to show you his new home; now he takes you out to the curb to show you his new car.

Register now at Ryan's Drug Store.

WOODROW WILSON

President Woodrow Wilson passed into the great beyond Sunday morning, after an illness of four years. The poor, tired, worn body of Woodrow Wilson was consigned to the dust from whence it came on Wednesday, but Woodrow Wilson is not dead. He will live in the hearts and minds of the American people for countless ages, for he was a great idealist.

The Late Woodrow Wilson, President of the United States 1912-1920.

Washington, Lincoln, Roosevelt and countless others who had high ideals and great courageous hearts which enabled them to bring their ideals before the world, are just as potent forces in the lives of the people of America now as though they were here and going about their earthly labors. And with the others who made a lasting place for themselves in the hearts of their countrymen, Woodrow Wilson will live in ages to come, because he did his part to "Make the World safe for Democracy."

The poet said, "God moves in a mysterious way his wonders to perform." Woodrow Wilson exemplified that fact. He was taken from the study of a place of learning to guide a nation and wisdom enabled him to bring a great war to a successful conclusion. He had hoped that he might help to put an end to wars but that privilege was denied him. He valiantly fought for his principles and sacrificed his health and strength for his ideals.

Now he rests, his troubles over and paraphrasing the words of a great American when another of our great American presidents was taken we can say, "Woodrow Wilson now belongs to the Ages."

THE LITTLE TAILOR BOY

I remember when I was a little bit of a fellow mother used to sing an old English folk song to me. It told of a tailor who had three sons, and three fine sons were they. One of them became a miller, who had a fine mill dam. Another became a weaver who spun fine yarn and the little fellow became a tailor boy. Then the old man died. He left a fine piece of broadcloth that each of the two older brothers wanted but the little tailor boy had it. They plotted and the miller fixed a trap for the little fellow so that he would fall into the mill dam and drown and the weaver fixed his yarn over a tree so that when he took the boy past it he would catch in it and be hung. But as the old song went, "The miller got drowned in his own mill dam and the weaver was hung in his yarn; while the little tailor boy ran away from them both, with the broadcloth under his arm."

We were reminded of the old song by the "Teapot Dome." It now begins to look as though certain people might get drowned in their own mill dams and certain others may be hung in their yarn. Its also a pretty safe to say that the silent little man who is sitting tight at Washington may be able to keep his broadcloth under his arm for another four years.

A PLANNING COMMISSION

Some weeks ago we editorially suggested that an ordinance should be passed fixing the space which should be left between the sidewalk and a building in the residential section of a town. An ordinance covering this point has been prepared. We would now like to suggest that the trustees should appoint a "City Planning Commission," the members of which would be required to pass on all contemplated improvements both in the business and residential sections of the community.

It is always necessary to cover a number of points in the ordinances of the city, but reasons may arise which would require deviations from the orders as laid down by the city council. A Planning Committee would have power, if there were good reasons shown, to permit changes to be made without rescinding old ordinances or framing new ones. Such a committee would be of great value to Redwood City.

We suggest the idea as a good one for future consideration.

THE ELECTION

Election time is rapidly drawing near and so far no one has come forward to declare himself a candidate for a position on the City Council. It may be there will be no contests. Messrs. McNulty, Mable and Monteith would be hard men to beat. They have gone about their duties quietly and have given a good administration. They have been progressive and many improvements have been done under their direction. They have attended to city affairs in a gentlemanly way, so it is more than probable that they will be urged to remain in their present places for another term.

more Ford cars and trucks were produced last year than the previous year, an increase of over 50 per cent.

In spite of this tremendous increase in production, it was impossible to meet delivery requirements during the spring and summer months when orders for 350,000 Ford Cars and Trucks could not be filled.

This year winter buying for immediate delivery has been more active than ever before—and in addition 200,000 orders have already been booked through the Ford Weekly Purchase Plan for spring delivery.

These facts clearly indicate that the demand during this spring and summer will be far greater than ever, and that orders should be placed immediately with Ford Dealers as a means of protection against delay in securing your Ford Car or Truck or Fordson Tractor.

Sydney L. Plant of Menlo Park, president of the Plant Rubber and Asbestos Works, was painfully cut and bruised Monday night when he was struck by a jitney bus in a safety zone at First and Market streets, San Francisco. J. B. Lippincott of the publishing firm of Lippincott, Beall & Co., was also struck.

The driver of the bus, whose name was not learned, failed to stop, but was forced to back up by a crowd which surrounded his car. The injured man refused to have the driver arrested, and drove away himself in Lippincott's car, which was parked near by, without seeking medical attention. The crowd then permitted the driver to proceed without learning his name.

Announcement has been made of the marriage of Miss Dorothy Cable Hess, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Henry Hess, and Dr. John Harold Dorn, son of the late D. S. Dorn and Mrs. Camille Dorn, residents of Menlo Park for many years. Dr. Dorn's two sisters, Camille and Marion, are Stanford graduates. He is a graduate of the Harvard Medical School and is now at the Presbyterian Hospital in New York. His bride was attending Wellesley College at the time of the marriage. November 23, 1923, and is doing special work at Barnard College. The Dorns sold their home near the Sacred Heart University to Robert Moore some years ago.

Ralph Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Duncan Reynolds, Mrs. Carl Kurtz, Mrs. John MacBain, Miss Pearl McCormick, Teddy Dale, Desmond Sullivan, Miss Pauline Gilchrist and James O'Keefe, Jr.

The ladies of the Church of the Nativity are contemplating holding a bazaar for the benefit of the church some time during the coming summer. Committees will soon be appointed to prepare for the event. It is some years since a fair was held here. No doubt the approaching bazaar will be a big success in every way.

E. Giboret, the local plumber, has sold his home on Oak Grove avenue to C. H. Lane, a retired merchant of San Francisco. Mr. and Mrs. Giboret will shortly depart for their old home in France to remain for three months. On their return they will build a new home on their property on Oak Grove avenue. The sale was made by W. J. Murray, the local realty broker.

James G. Mason has taken the place of the late W. A. Doyle as agent for the Duff and Doyle large holdings in Menlo Park. The best portion of the business property here is owned by them.

Albert Clothier, brother of James B. Clothier passed away this week at his home in Seattle, following a short illness. As a young man the deceased often visited his brother here and was well known in Menlo Park twenty-five years ago. The remains have been shipped to Minneapolis for burial.

The rainfall for the recent storm has been an inch and a quarter. The gentle showers are welcomed by all. The warm rains have brought a large crop of mushrooms. Never before have so many fungi been seen here.

Mrs. B. Blanchard is quite ill at her home with an attack of double pneumonia. She is bravely fighting the iron lungs of the disease. Mrs. Blanchard is the wife of the oldest residents of San Mateo county, having been born in Halfmoon Bay. She is a prominent member of Menlo Park N. D. G. W. When this work is completed the government is to erect thirty-four new buildings in the place of the old ones. Congress has made a sufficient appropriation to meet the cost of construction. When all the units contemplated are finished the hospital will be one of the finest and best in the country. The government is spending the big sum of $100,000 in beautifying the spacious grounds around the institution.

John O'Farrell is seriously ill at his home on El Camino Real. His family and friends are much alarmed over the outcome of his sickness.

Work on the Dumbarton bridge will start next week and is to be pushed to an early completion. Sufficient stock has been disposed of to insure to payment of construction. Mr. Harrington arrived from the east last week to supervise the work and award the preliminary contracts. A number of contractors were here this week looking for ample quarters to house their men and teams. The bridge is to be finished in a year. Much development in this section is expected when the bridge is completed. Property values will double then. The wise speculator will do his investing now when real estate may be bought at reasonable figures.

At the last regular meeting of the Las Lomitas Parent-Teacher Association, Mrs. Henry Fowler and Mrs. Jerome Thomas of Palo Alto were the speakers. Mrs. Fowler spoke on legislation affecting the schools, and urged the parents to watch the vote of assemblymen on educational matters, and to show their belief in educational standards by registering and voting. Mrs. Fowler, who is a member of the Advisory Board on motion pictures in Palo Alto, spoke on "Films and Children," deploring the fact that so many children see, give them a false view of life, but emphasizing the fact that motion pictures are here to stay, and that we should somehow provide deplorable ones for the children to see. The association is now considering the purchase of a picture machine for the use of the school and the neighborhood.

An executive of the association will be held at the school house on Wednesday, February 13, at 7:15. Full reports of committees will be given, and a large attendance is earnestly requested. Members intending to be present at the P. T. A. Founder's Day Tea at the community house, Palo Alto, are asked to call up Mr. R. M. Roberts a few days in advance, if possible. This will be a very pleasant opportunity of meeting the members of the P. T. A. from the neighboring towns, as well as of enjoying an interesting talk and musical program.

Supervisors Meet

Attorney Albert Mansfield appeared before the board in regard to the $1,000 reward offered by the county for the arrest of the kidnappers of Father Hennrich. Catholic priest of Colma who was murdered three years ago, and for whose murder William Hightower is now serving a life sentence. The reward was claimed by George Lynn, reporter for the San Francisco Examiner, who was responsible for the arrest of Hightower. The claim of Lynn, however, turned down by the board, and Attorney Mansfield appointed to represent the county in the case. Lynn was represented by J. E. McCurdy of San Mateo. Both attorneys were present at the board meeting Monday, and Mansfield advised the board to accept a compromise. Lynn was, he said, entitled to a part, at least, of the reward, and if the case went to court he would receive either all or none. McCurdy said he thought that Lynn would accept a compromise. The board, therefore, authorized Mansfield to arrange a compromise with Lynn for not more than $500. District attorney Swart was called in during the discussion in regard to the reward. The board turned down the claim, it was said, on account of Swart's attitude when it was presented. The district attorney stoutly denied having posed the claim and the minutes of the meeting were called for, but failed to show where he had offered any objections to paying the claim. The reward was offered, he said, without his opinion or advice, and that when after turning down the claim he was called to him for advice, he declined to act and asked that another attorney be appointed to represent them in the case.

Supervisor McBain spoke of the salary of the patron of the Juvenile Home, which at present is $125. McBain said that Judge Burk had recommended increasing her salary to $150. A motion was made by Supervisor MacBain to raise her salary to that amount, but the motion failed for want of a second. Bids were received and opened by the board for the construction of a tuberculosis pavilion at the new community hospital. The following bids were received: I. R. Holm Co., $16,812; C. L. Fowler, $14,900; R. M. McLean Co., $14,247; Fred D. Turner $13,887; E. S. Shaw $15,990; C. H. Baes $15,400. The bid of the lowest, Fred D. Turner, was accepted and the matter laid over one week.

A new contract was entered into by the board with the Great Western Light and Power Company for the Halfmoon Bay Lighting District. No bids were called for as this is the only company in a position to serve the district. The stipulation was made, however, that the charge made for light or power should be no greater than those made in other parts of the county.

NEWS OF WOODSIDE

At the unusual visitors at Woodside, the probability of a distance from the railroad. But several of the fraternity have put in their appearance here during the past week in some instances being quite instant, not for the ordinary hand-out, but for a square meal. Max de Haas, bookkeeper at Neuman's store, moved to San Lorenzo on Friday. The place of Jeffrey French, who he has been occupying, has been sold to a wealthy merchant of San Francisco who will at once improve the house and grounds for a summer residence.

E. J. Bonafant has begun building on the property recently purchased by him from Grover Neuman. So far he has had some of us become over the prospect of a dry year the various expedients were being planned for carrying a diminished water supply over the summer. J. M. Huddart has begun work on a new reservoir which he hopes to be able to fill with water during the winter what is left of the water to carry him through a month or two of the summer weather. Just at the present writing it sounds as if our various precautions may not be necessary after all.

Ludwig von Savoy and family went to the city to escape the rigors of life in the country during the wet season. They have decided, however, that Woodside is the best place to live at whatever time of year and so have returned to their cottage here for permanent residence.

Mr. O. E. Blackington and daughter, Phyllis, have just returned after several days spent with Mrs. Richard Stein in San Francisco.

Register now at Ryan's Drug Store.

Honest Abe, he was called by those who knew him, a man who served all alike, with the best he could give. And in offering our tribute to the memory of Abraham Lincoln on this the anniversary of his birthday, we like to think of his kindness, his invariable consideration for others, and to express the hope that we may be as considerate and as servicable to our fellowmen, even in the ordinary dealings of our daily life.

ECHOS FROM LA HONDA

By Philip Magill

The regular monthly meeting of the La Honda Canyon Association took place at La Honda Hotel February 2. All members were present with a few exceptions. The main business of the evening was in regard to the light and power line through the canyon, considerable progress being made in this line in spite of the few dissensions. The matter of strips on the number plates of the cars of the Canyon was carried over, owing to a lack of subscribers a certain number being required in order to get a rate on them.

The question of entrance gates was taken up and different views presented. One would think that the proper place for an entrance would be at the intersection of the La Honda Canyon and Skyline boulevards, that being the source of the La Honda creek and Canyon. The advantage of an entrance at this point would be a means of attracting the tourist on the Skyline boulevard into the Canyon.

There are a few rumors afloat that the Canyon is to be fenced shortly, and according from the rest of the district. This seems perfectly fair, why not a toll canyon, as well as a toll bridge.

It requires considerable diplomacy to guide the officers of the association to conduct one of these meetings harmoniously as the Canyonites are a high strung tribe and probably to the high altitude. The association is fortunate in having Mr. Maurice Woodhams as secretary to guide it through the legal tangles that are bound to occur at different times. To President Fry must be given the honor of conceiving the idea of a monthly gathering, that we might come together and get acquainted even though some of us are non-hog members.

Chairman Steinberg of the smoke and cinders committee, was late in appearing at the meeting, as he was hot on a trail of cigar smoke through the Canyon, and was decorated with a nosebag by the exasperated president, who was politely advised to look under his nose for repairs. The business end of the meeting being completed, the rest of the evening was devoted to refreshments and dancing.

Professor Percy St. John, accompanied by Mrs. James Cantalupo Zanolli, rendered some songs and violin selections. More than one strong man was seen to tremble and reach for his hip, as the music crept into that subconscious of spiritual good of which every human being is possessed to greater or less extent.

Mr. Chester Haggert, Dumbarton Bridge promoter, spent the evening with us and delighted us with his wit and good humor. He also did justice to the refreshments, storing away 24 cups of coffee, 6 cakes and 72 cheese sandwiches which will last him until the bridge is built. We are not positive how many calories he devoured, but it must have been several million, as he left looking "heggard."

The Sear girls fulfilled their reputation as hostesses, extending every courtesy to the large crowd which graced their tables. Al Stegbit, hammer and saw artist, also proprietor of the Alpine refrigerator and Geo. Steinberg, the Canyon fling to the delight of the rest of the refugees. In tripping the light fantastic, they tripped several couples off their balance and were rewarded with some very dark glances.

Miss Anita War, the Canyon's efficient school teacher, was noticed swinging a very wicked foot during the evening's whirl. The refreshment committee consisting of Mrs. Ida J. Sears, Mrs. Harry Wright and Mrs. Geo. Steinberg handled the various refreshments to the satisfaction of all.

Each succeeding meeting of the La Honda Canyon Association seems to bring more people together, and before the year is out, we will be borrowing somebody's hay field to hold them.

The next meeting will take place at the Big Tree Inn at the invitation of Mr. and Mrs. Hatter. Everybody is invited, bring some kind of refreshment with you and join us if you wish. You are all welcome to be sure and come the first Saturday in March and bring your nosebag with you.

The pig-wigly institution of the Geo. A. Pope estate was destroyed by fire of mysterious origin recently. The only solution that can be arrived at thus far as to the cause is that some inmate got reckless with the rubbing p oil, and that's what made the house fly.

A delightful birthday party was given by Mr. and Mrs. V. F. Brown at their Skyline ranch home on Jan. 27. Mrs. E. L. Brown, Mr. and Mrs. Leland John, Mr. and Mrs. George Steinberg, Miss Ira Fuller were the guests of honor. A delicious repast was served by Mrs. Brown who saw sure to do it up brown.

With drums beating and banners flying the La Honda Mercantile Co. swept across "No Man's Land," and attacked the strong-hold of the notorious Jackson Gabriello, going over the top with a whoop and sweeping everything before them. The smiling Jack will be seen no more dispensing cider to the passers-by.

Leland John has moved to May.

FULL PURSE RETURNED TO OWNER BY FINDER

Diogenes can now throw his famed lantern on the junk heap, for the honest man for whom he sought has now been found. This man is Gordon Coryel of Atherton; who found a lady's purse last Monday, while walking on Tuscualusa avenue in Atherton. Upon inspection the purse was found to contain $175 in cash and a gold watch. No identification, however, was found. Coryel took his find to J. W. Cellar, chief of police of Atherton, in order that the rightful owner might be found. Investigation by Officer Cellar disclosed that a purse containing that amount and a gold watch had been lost by Mrs. Foust of Atherton and the property was immediately restored to its owner.

Is what we call our work, and our many customers agree with us. It really costs no more than home washing and gives you far better results in the end. Delicate women's lingerie as well as men's shirts and collars are well laundered by us.
